ABOUT MISSISSIPPI'S SLDS

Mississippi's Statewide Longitudinal Data System (SLDS) is one of the most comprehensive systems in the country and includes administrative records from more than 25 education, workforce, and human service agencies in the state. The SLDS allows for the alignment of multiple sources of de-identified administrative data over time to evaluate educational or workforce strategies in terms of real outcomes, such as entrance into employment, wages, and skill gains.

PREPARED BY MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY'S NSPARC

NSPARC, the National Strategic Planning & Analysis Research Center at Mississippi State University, is a trusted source for research addressing critical challenges faced by government, economic and workforce development professionals, educational institutions, nonprofits, and the private sector. Drawing on a team of social scientists, economists, data engineers, data analysts, and machine learning experts, NSPARC facilitates informed decision-making.

With over 20 years of experience, NSPARC excels at combining data from disparate sources to tackle complex issues. NSPARC scientists uncover trends and enable evidence-based research across areas ranging from workforce development, education, and economics to disaster resilience, and community development. NSPARC scientists' versatility allows them to easily translate knowledge from one domain to another and collaborate effectively with diverse partners, ensuring research findings have real-world impact. This allows NSPARC to draw meaningful insights from data to address challenges faced by policymakers, employers, economic developers, and state agencies.

DATA

The data for this analysis were obtained from Mississippi's State Longitudinal Data System (SLDS). Data on job openings were contributed to the SLDS by the Mississippi Department of Employment Security's (MDES) state job board, Mississippi Works. Mississippi Works allows employers to create job announcements, and it allows job seekers to search and apply for jobs; approximately 160,000 job seekers have used this service in the last year, and approximately 43,000 companies are registered in the system.

For this study, we consider only job openings that have been open during the past 12 months (July 2020 – July 2021). However, real-time data from Mississippi Works can also be used to determine the number of people that are looking for work (job seekers) and can provide important information pertaining to their place of residence, educational background, previous occupations, skills, and years of experience.

INDICATORS

The following indicators were utilized to conduct this analysis:

Job Openings – An actively advertised job opening posted on Mississippi Works within the past 12 months (July 2020 – July 2021) which specifies that the job site or employer location is in the city of Columbus, MS.

Probable Job Openings – The actively advertised job openings posted on Mississippi Works within the past 12 months (July 2020 – July 2021) which lists Columbus, MS, as one potential location for work, and which is posted by an employer with a physical presence in the city.

Hourly Earnings / Salary – The median hourly wage or median annual salary earned by Mississippian's working in a specified occupation.
